Take a Walk for Cancer Research

Dedham Savings sponsors walk, honors employee, and raises money for Dana Farber

(Dedham, MA) May 1st, 2011 was as good a day as any to “Take a Walk” with friends and family—a walk to benefit Dana Farber Cancer Institute, specifically for cancer research.

The 18th annual Dedham Savings 4.5 mile fitness walk is held in conjunction with the James Joyce Ramble 10k road race. The walk is a special event for Dedham Savings employees and their families and friends, as it honors one of their former employees, Janice Stanley, who lost her battle to cancer.

This year’s scenic walk began at the Endicott Estate, traversed through downtown Dedham and finished back at the Estate. According to Chief Operating Officer Jerry Lavoie of Dedham Savings, “Rain or shine, the Take a Walk event to benefit cancer research is always a success for the Bank. We raise money for cancer research, but more importantly it is a day we remember our friend Janice Stanley and all the others who lost their battles to cancer. As of May 19, 2011 our Bank team raised 14,861.00 for cancer research. Some monies are still being sent in. Whatever the sum, we are always proud of the effort our employees and their families and friends put out.”
